We have one new DVD for rental this month. It's the tenth in the Tim Yoder series. He turns a fishing lure, a stylize bird, a child's toy lawnmower, and does a hollow turning with stumped (?) glass inlay. It's DVD #218.

I would like to ask you to start thinking about the miniature picture frames for the Christmas ornaments we sold last year. Since they seemed to be pretty popular, I plan to offer them this year as well. Again, we need a commitment in order for the club to get the best price. If we get sufficient orders, the price (I hope) will be the same as last year, $2.25 each in advance, $2.50 for the leftovers.

Along the same line, some of you may remember the hand drill kits we offered last year or so. We had 10 to sell, and they went pretty fast. If there's enough interest, I'll keep my eye out for another sale, and offer them again. We sold them for $20, and included everything except the wood for the handle. If I can find another good sale, the price will be the same. At any rate, they would not cost over 22 or 23 bucks each. (CSUSA offers a similar item for $40. Look on page 50 of their latest catalog.)

Let me know if this would interest you. Once again, we need at least 5 or 6 people involved to make this financially viable.

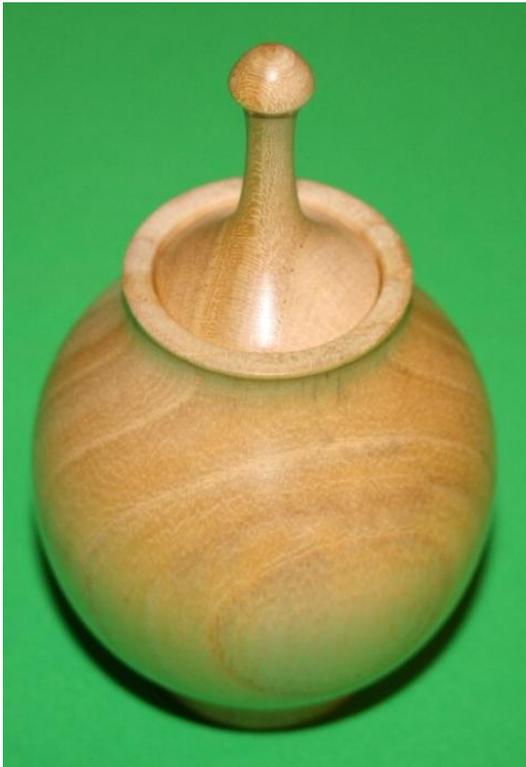

I have also decided to make June the Official Feedback Month for the library. So if you have any gripes, suggestions, or just want to vent, now is the time. Unfortunately, I am in Tennessee right now, so you'll have to direct your complaints to Wynn Arnold, who's sitting in for me this month. You can find his home address, email, and phone number in the club member listing. Just drop him a line, call him (anytime, day or night - he won't mind!), drop by, whatever, and let him know what you DON'T like about the service. This is your chance, so don't hold back! Let 'er rip...

Lastly, a small favor please. Don't put the DVD's in your back pockets to carry them. It invariably breaks the case, and has cracked the DVD itself. (Especially when you sit on it! It's a goner for sure then.) Which of course means that a new one has to be made, with the replacement cost coming out of the library club fund.

Will see you at the July meeting.
